Subject: Risk budget tool permit condition comments

Ron: Please find comments on the risk budget tool conditions extracted from the IDF chapter of the re-issue permit, as we discussed today during the program manager call.

Most of these comments are fairly open-ended, and not all include explicit recommended language. I've written such comments in this form deliberately, as the starting point for discussion. In a number of cases, I do not feel comfortable making assumptions about Ecology thinking or intentions, since I'm more likely to guess wrong than be on-point. I think it will be very valuable to have a working discussion of these comments - my experience to date working with Suzanne on these comments is that the final resolution is far better with all voices at the table than otherwise.

Andy: I'm copying you on these comments in case you're interested and since you may be involved in these discussions at some point. Your comments are welcome, but at your discretion.

Dave
